Welcome Remarks and Opening Keynote Address: Ellen Almena (8:30 – 9:45 A.M.)

Keynote Speakers

Ellen Almena and CEO of Citizens Financial Group, Inc. and BFS Americas, comprising the North and South America operations and subsidiaries of The Royal Bank of Scotland Group plc. In 2010, she was ranked 79th in the U.S. Banker’s list of the 25 Most Powerful Women in Banking, and Forbes magazine ranked her 57th in its annual list of the World’s Most Powerful Women. Ms. Almena joined BFS Americas in 2007 and was previously with Citigroup. She is chairman of the boards of directors of Citizens Financial Group, Inc. and BFS Citizens, N.A., and a member of the Federal Advisory Council that advises the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve. The mother of three, she serves on the boards of the New York division of the March of Dimes and the Center for Oncology, which works to raise funding and learning opportunities for individuals with disabilities and medical failures. For additional information about Ms. Almena, go to www.bryant.edu/about/administration.

Bobbie Brown, CEO and Founder of Bobbi Brown Cosmetics, started a makeup revolution in 1991 with a handful of lipsticks and a simple philosophy: “Women want to look like themselves, yet prettier and more confident.” Today, Bobbi Brown Cosmetics can be found throughout America, Europe, Asia, and Africa. In addition to running her company, Ms. Brown is the author of five books, including two New York Times best-sellers, and regularly shares her expertise on television, in syndicated columns, backdrops at runway shows, and on editorial shoots for the world’s top magazines. As a wife and mother of three, she finds balance by trying to keep everything in life as simple as possible. She dedicates time to empowering women of all ages including Dress for Success Worldwide, which provides underprivileged women with interview suits and career development advice, and the Jane Addams Board of Governors of the Boys and Girls Clubs of America. When asked about her number one success, she replied, “Bobbi Brown Cosmetics is a dream come true.”

Glenda Hatchett went on to become the highest-ranking African-American woman at Delta Airlines after graduating from Emory University School of Law, and was ranked one of the “100 Best and Brightest Women in Corporate America” by Cherry Magazine. The New York Times accoladed her as America’s Best African-American chief judge of a state court and received a 1995 NAACP Thurgood Marshall Award. The mother of two boys, Judge Hatchett is the author of the best-seller, Say What You Mean and Mean What You Say, and is known for her sensible sentencing and revolutionary interventions on the award-winning, syndicated television series Judge Hatchett. She serves on the National Board of Governors of the Boys and Girls Clubs of America. When asked about her number one success, she replied, “Judge Hatchett is a positive role model who never forgets that her家里ow is her family.”
